The program was built to complement the recently added Clipboard History, so one of the program's features is the possibility of importing and exporting clipboards. The program's interface is intuitive and you don't have to be an IT expert to use it. The program offers four different sections - Home, Clips, External Disk and Clipboard History. On the Home page, you can easily add new items. If you want to add a directory, you can right-click it and select Add Folder Item. You can also rename, duplicate and delete items. The Clip section is made up of three sections - Clipboard, Clips and Clips Management. You can sort your clips alphabetically, by event or by filename, date or by size. You can also set some clip options and save them in the settings area. The External Disk section allows you to view your current external disk archives. In order to add a new archive, you need to connect it to your computer, but you can delete archives and change some other settings there. Clipboard History allows you to view and add your clipboard histories. The history can be organized by any criterion. If you want to change the interface, click on the Settings button. You can also configure the history's save and open options. TechSmith Clip Organizer 2007 Description: TechSmith Clip Organizer 2007 is a simple program that works with your Clipboard History.
